

Talking About Taxes

The conversation we have started here must keep going! Staff, volunteers, and board members of nonprofit organizations in California can play a key role in making sure that budget and tax decisions create a healthy and prosperous state.

CPEHN, along with CompassPoint Nonprofit Services and the Building Movement Project, have started an effort called "Talking About Taxes." Our goal is to mobilize the people who work with and for nonprofits to use our collective strength to create public policy that serves the public.

I am also willing to:

- Discuss this effort on our organization's blog.
- Talk with five colleagues about what I learned today.
- Invite a Talking About Taxes trainer to present to a meeting of other people in my organization.
- Join the Talking About Taxes team and attending a train- the-trainer event.
